PICTURE PRINCES BRING FEATURE TO SHOW TO GOVERNOR

Probably the largest salaried motion picture man to have ever visited Phoenix, was registered at the Hotel Adams yesterday. The fact that he is the best paid of that profession to have ever visited here, also implies that he is one of the biggest men in motion picturedom to come this way.

Raoul Walsh, claimed by William Fox to be his "favorite" director, was in Phoenix all day yesterday, leaving last night. He came here with a ten reel picture entitled "The Honor System," for the purpose of getting a few hundred feet of Governor Hunt, and interesting the chief executive of the state in what he terms his greatest production. The governor has taken a great deal of interest in the picture, since its inception five months ago, at Yuma.

The ten reels will be shown this evening at the Lamara theater, to Governor Hunt and party, James A. Marcus, one of the Fox officials, and several others who have had a hand in its making. The regular admission will be charged to see the picture, which will be thrown on the screen for the first time at eight o'clock. William Fox, whose money made the picture possible, has not seen the picture as yet, and after its preview here this evening it will be sent on to New York for his review.

"The Honor System" is distinctly an Arizona picture. The story was written by an Arizona newspaper man, and the scenes are all laid at the old penitentiary at Yuma, and its successor at Florence. Several hundred thousand dollars were spent in its production, and over 5,000 people were used.

In the opinion of Mr. Walsh, "The Honor System" is the greatest picture as yet put out by the Fox forces. It did not cost as much as "A Daughter of the Gods," starring Annette Kellerman, but Mr. Walsh is positive that it will carry a greater punch, and create sensation in the east. It was taken to Florence last night, and exhibited to the prisoners there, many of whom have gone through the mill depicted.

Louis Victor Bytting, noted lifer at Florence, took a principal role in the portion of the picture made at Florence.

In an interview yesterday James A. Marcus, who impersonates Governor Hunt, under the name of "Governor Hunter," stated that the Fox people were very enthusiastic over Arizona as a motion picture center. His organization had found that it was possible to "shoot" from 12 to 14 hours a day, November, it is the plan of William Fox to send a company to Phoenix to make several high class western pictures, following closely the lines of "Ramona" which was made in California. Although Arizona has no great epic like "Ramona" upon which to base a picture, Mr. Marcus stated that there were enough stories of interest attached to the setting of the state to build a first class series of pictures.

at the Lamara beginning today and tomorrow.

It is a matter of odd interest that Miss Hyland, who has distinguished herself abroad in the stellar roles of many stage successes, should appear in her first American screen offering in an Englishman's play, and a drama moreover that won its first success in Europe, repeating its stage triumph later in the United States.

Miss Hyland, in the leading role of Letty Fletcher, the only daughter of the minister of Steepleford, went with a selected cast of famous players, headed by Director James Kirkwood to the most beautiful sections of Florida for the purpose of filming this superb drama.

Brady Feature at Arizona. When William A. Brady said that he would personally see that each star acting under contract for him would be equipped with adequate material and places which were suited to their talents, he never for a moment thought that he would strike the nail right on the head with his first personally selected play and stars. In "Sally in Our Alley" which is offering at the Arizona today and tomorrow, Mr. Brady presents Carlyle Blackwell and Muriel Ostriche in a play which fits both these picture stars like a glove, and has all the hearings of a written-to-order play. Fans who appreciate and love the heart-interest love-drama should not fail to see this picture when it is shown in this city.

At The Plaza. In "The Double Resurrection" which is the title of "The Iron Claw" in a play which is running again at the Plaza today, both Brady and "The Laughing Mask," who were supposed to have been disposed of permanently by Jules Legar, make a return in person hence the title. In addition to this same one roles "The Iron Claw" of a future in bonds and captivity. There will be shown on the same program a two-reel feature with the famous Thanet House twins, "The Fairbanks Sisters" in the leading role. It is called "The Answer" and is a very interesting pretty well acted story. The Fairbanks sisters have long been favorites on the screen. People of America have seen them two girls grow up before their eyes, and they appreciate alike their beauty and talent.
